The territory centres near Smithfield, Jefferson county, and lies about ten miles north of the Ohio river at Martin's Ferry. The district has been carefully examined by experts, who unanimously reported that the prospects for striking gas were favorable. In view of the probably successful development of the territory, the syndicate has had surveys made for lines to Cleveland, and has included in its plans and regulated its capital so as to admit of the laying of three twelve inch wrought iron mains to that city. Should the supply be as large as expected the the laying of three twelve inch wrough iron mains to that city. Should be syndicate will reach out for the partonage of Wheeling and Steubenville.
